U.S. WILL ISSUE SMALL SECURITIES TO HALT HOARDING

Knox Group Discusses Campaign Plans Designed To Return Hidden Millions in American Money to Circulation.

PASSAGE EXPECTED FOR BANKING BILL

Increase in Loans to Brokers Reveals Trend Upward for First Time Since September.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The credit expansion bill rode the waves of senate activity today headed to certain passage but impeded by too many laudatory friends.

More than five hours of talk, which included much criticism of the bankers as timid and fearful, failed to bring a word of opposition to the measure itself. Leaders were confident tomorrow will bring passage of the bill, which is intended to bulwark the banks of the nation with the vast resources of the federal reserve system.

During the day, Colonel Frank Knox, head of the president's anti-hoarding organization, disclosed that a concerted drive to bring dollars out of hiding by offering an issue of government bonds in small denominations will be instituted soon. Detailed plans will be announced by the treasury March 7.

President Hoover himself contemplated additional activity in the anti-hoarding movement. He conferred during the day with George Whitney, New York banker; James G. Harbord, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America; and Ogden L. Mills, secretary of the treasury.

Although none of the participants would discuss their party, one of the president's secretaries said it had centered upon the anti-hoarding movement.

Two encouraging features in the general financial outlook were seen tonight by the federal reserve board in a cessation of hoarding and increased stock market activity. An increase in loans to brokers and dealers of $13,000,000 was noted, the first upward trend in these transactions since September.

The board's weekly statement also reported a drop of $17,000,000 in money in circulation, which was partially attributed to the drive to bring currency out of hoarding.

The credit expansion bill is designed to ease the restrictions of the federal reserve system so that banks can obtain cash for securities not eligible for rediscount under present rules. In addition it would make many millions of dollars of free gold available to the reserve system as a bulwark against foreign gold withdrawals or as backing for new bank notes.

Robinson, the democratic leader, opened the senate discussion with a democratic claim for originating the legislation. It is sponsored by Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, and Representative Steagall, democrat, Alabama.

The party leader also carried forward the attack made yesterday by

Hurt in Accident

BERNARD SHAW.

CAPE TOWN, Union of South Africa, Feb. 18.—(AP)—George Bernard Shaw, the Irish dramatist, and Mrs. Shaw were injured today on a road near Knysna when their automobile, driven by Mr. Shaw, ran into a ditch.

Mr. Shaw, who came here on a visit last month, was badly bruised and considerably shaken up. One of Mrs. Shaw's wrists was injured.

BANK OF ENGLAND CUTS REDISCOUNT TO FIVE PER CENT

Step Hailed as Signaling Defeat of Inflationists and Beginning of Brighter Business Era.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—For the first time in 18 years the Bank of England cut its rediscount rate by a full one per cent, reducing it from 6 per cent to 5 per cent.

Usually the rate is stepped down a half per cent at a time, and today's action gave an immediate fillip to industrial issues on the stock exchange where cheaper money acted as a valuable stimulus to trade.

The theoretical economists described the reduction as marking Great Britain's ultimate victory over the inflationary tendencies which some had feared would develop after the country suspended the gold standard.

The businessmen and brokers received it as an indication that the "Old Lady of Threadneedle Street," chief of the most cautious of financial institutions, feels itself to be on firm ground for the moment and can look to the immediate future with confidence.

The 6 per cent rate was imposed on September 21 last year when the gold standard was suspended. One of the most cautious of financial institutions, feels itself to be on firm ground for the moment and can look to the immediate future with confidence.

Recall Signatures Will Be Published

The Constitution Thursday completed plans for publishing the signatures on the Atlanta Federation of Trades and John A. Mangert petition asking the recall of Mayor James L. Key. The lists will be printed in full as soon as J. Henson Tatum, city clerk and registrar, completes his check of the lists.

Tatum agreed Thursday to furnish a list by words just as soon as he completed checking the petitions against the registration lists to ascertain whether 25 per cent of the registered voters in the December, 1931, general election signed the ouster petitions.

More than 20 mistakes had been recorded Thursday in the checking of the first three wards and part of the fourth. The petitions were filed formally Monday with the Atlanta Federation of Trades and John A. Mangert, president of the Greater Atlanta Prohibition and Law Enforcement Club, joining in the ouster move against the mayor.

Mother of Washington Receives Unusual Tribute From Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Celebrating the centennial of the birth of George Washington, the nation also has remembered his mother, Mary Ball Washington, whom he described as the "most beautiful woman I ever saw."

At the base of a snow-white shaft that marks her grave at Fredericksburg, Va., a committee of congress will lay a simple evergreen design at exercises Monday forenoon.

U.S. INVESTIGATION OF WAGE SLASHING URGED IN HOUSE

Connery Charges Pay Has Been Reduced in Greater Proportion Than Cost of Living.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Asserting that wages have been reduced in greater proportion than living costs have dropped, Chairman Connery of the house labor committee today demanded an investigation of wage slashes by large industries which are still paying dividends.

The Massachusetts democrat appeared before the house rules committee and asked approval of a resolution by Representative Connery, democrat, Rhode Island, under which his committee would conduct the inquiry.

Connery charged that the cost of living had declined by 25 per cent since 1925. The committee, he said, needed information on which to base legislation to prevent ruthless pay slashes, particularly by those industries protected by the tariff and otherwise assisted by federal law, directly and indirectly.

Speaking for his resolution, Connery said "propaganda is being spread by industries in order to effect further wage cuts, although many of the industries are continuing to grant dividends."

Wages paid to labor in many industries have been drastically cut during the depression, notwithstanding the urgent appeal of President Hoover against such a policy, he said. "Wage cutting has now become general throughout the country and is being defended on the ground that it is necessary in order to maintain employment and enable invested capital to operate at a profit."

"This contention is in direct contradiction to the theory that reductions of wages would seriously aggravate the economic crisis in this country."

By pursuing a policy in opposition to the president's wishes, the industries, Connery asserted, "are depriving American labor of the protection intended by federal law, and are seeking to retain the major benefit of such law in the form of profits for capital."

Connery said if the investigation was ordered by the house he would summon organized labor chieftains and heads of the textile, shoe manufacturing, the General Motors Corporation, the United States Steel Corporation and the American Wool Company.

The rules committee took the proposition under consideration.

PACT UNIT NAVY URGED BY VINSON

Building Will Safeguard U. S. From East, Georgian Tells House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The eight states represented in the initial returns of the poll include New York, Virginia, North Carolina, Maryland, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio.

In this early tabulation, New York is the wettest of these states, with a percentage of 74.3 for repeal and North Carolina in the driest, with a percentage of 41.17 for continuance of the eighteenth amendment.

Illinois and Maryland are second and third in wetness, with wet percentages of 85.73 and 82.79, respectively.

Second and third in dryness of states reported are Indiana and Georgia with dry percentages of 36.03 and 31.68 respectively.

Ohio, which is referred to as the cradle of the Anti-Saloon League, figures in these returns with 71.50 per cent "wet" and 28.50 per cent "dry."

The Literary Digest however, issues a warning of caution that these first returns are so small in comparison to the final vote anticipated that any tendencies evidently apparent now may be completely overturned.

The magazine calls attention to the fact that many of the reportedly dry states are not included in this current tally and that heavy voting from these sections is beginning to pour in and will be reported at an early date.

Dry Leader Sees Doom In South-East Tie-Up

In a plea for support of his organization's efforts to retain the eighteenth amendment intact, Dr. Ira Landrith (right), chairman of the National Temperance Council, Thursday brought to a close the two-day series of mass meetings held in this city.

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, seen at the left, was to have been the chief speaker at Thursday night's session but was unable to be present because of illness. Staff photos by Kenneth Rogers.

Unless the dry south wins the 1932 office except in the way you've been accustomed to seeing them when you mail letters."

Dr. Landrith, chief of the allied speakers for the afternoon session, said the death-knell of the wet candidate for political office has been struck by public opinion against the liquor interests.

"The American republic," he said, "has selected its last wet candidate for president in all history. America has decided to quit employing the wet."

DE VALERA LEADS IN IRISH ELECTION

Fianna Fail-Labor Alliance Seen as Victors in Free State Vote.

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, Feb. 18.—(Friday)—(AP)—Republican forces were in the lead and gaining more seats in the daily election early today as returns from the Irish Free State in County Louth, where the Fianna Fail party had 46 seats and his labor supporters had seven, giving him a lead of 11 over the government's 42, including ten held by independents.

Already the labor party was preparing its conditions on which it would support De Valera, William Thomas Cosgrave, who was elected from Kildare, said that if the final result gave the labor members a balance of power they would support the Fianna Fail solely on condition that it adopted the labor plans for remedying unemployment.

The standing at 2 a. m. today was: Fianna Fail, 46; labor, 7; government, 32; independents, 10.

There still were 50 precincts to be heard from and seven seats will not be voted on until March 3. These are in County Louth, where the election was postponed because one of the government candidates was killed Sunday.

The Republicans had gained three seats from the government and two from the independents. Fitzgerald Kennedy, minister of justice, however, retained his seat from South Mayo with more than twice the required quota of votes.

First Returns in Digest Poll Tabulate 5 to 1 for Repeal; Georgia Over 2 to 1 Wet

The vote for "repeal of the eighteenth amendment" outnumbered that for "continuance of the prohibition amendment" by over five to one in the first scattering returns from eight states of the Literary Digest current nationwide straw ballot on prohibition.

PAINLEVE ACCEPTS TASK OF FORMING FRENCH MINISTRY

Tardieu and Laval Refuse Portfolios and Briand Announces Hands-Off Policy.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—(Friday)—(AP) Paul Painleve, who undertook to form a new French cabinet in place of the one that fell with Premier Pierre Laval, said today that M. Laval and Andre Tardieu had rejected offers of portfolios.

Aristide Briand had let it be known that he would take no part in the proceedings after President Paul Doumer asked M. Painleve, who has been premier before, to form a new ministry.

Laval and Tardieu, the latter minister of the war in the late government and French spokesman at the Geneva disarmament conference, refused to join the new ministry because the portfolio of interior was not offered to one of their friends, M. Painleve said.

He therefore continued his efforts to recruit a cabinet from the left and left-center parties.

M. Painleve, one of the most popular figures in French political life, was called in by the president this morning to fill the place vacated by the resignation of Premier Laval on Tuesday. He got down to work immediately and probably will have his cabinet ready tomorrow.

In his 68 years he has been as active as most in politics and his policies with regard to the outstanding present issues go along with those of his predecessor.

He stands for security as a prerequisite to disarmament and with him as premier it is not likely that the United States aided in framing the note of the council of the League of Nations to Japan.

A spokesman of the Tokyo foreign office had charged American influence in drawing the note which urged Japan to evacuate Chinese territory and respect her treaty rights.

The diplomat was followed by a clarification of this government's attitude toward damage to American life and property in the Shanghai international settlement during impending major clashes.

It was made known that Consul General Cunningham informed Chinese and Japanese officials two weeks ago that both would be held responsible if Americans were injured or their belongings damaged.

The same action is believed to have been taken by British and French consular officers in Shanghai.

SCHOOL PAY SLASH DELAYED BY BOARD

16 Per Cent Reduction Is Discussed; A Not for Meeting Set for Tonight.

Efforts to trim expenses of the Atlanta city schools to the amount set by council, a total of $2,536,733.88, will be continued at 7 o'clock tonight by the board of education following a three-and-a-half-hour session Thursday night in which no definite action was taken.

Alderman E. A. Gilliam, chairman of council's school committee, and T. W. Clift, business manager of the schools, announced that Controller B. Graham West had told them that the city has practically enough money to pay the school employees their salaries for the last half of December.

Clift said that checks will be mailed today to the teachers and other employees. The December salaries are to come out of current revenue, since the banks refused to lend money to pay last year's salaries or bills.

Washington's Hopes for Early Peace Dashed by Issuance of Japanese Ultimatum on Evacuation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—From the state department today came an emphatic denial of charges that the United States aided in framing the note of the council of the League of Nations to Japan.

A spokesman of the Tokyo foreign office had charged American influence in drawing the note which urged Japan to evacuate Chinese territory and respect her treaty rights.

The diplomat was followed by a clarification of this government's attitude toward damage to American life and property in the Shanghai international settlement during impending major clashes.

It was made known that Consul General Cunningham informed Chinese and Japanese officials two weeks ago that both would be held responsible if Americans were injured or their belongings damaged.

Injunction Spikes Arms in Oil Field

TYLER, Texas, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Federal Judge Randolph Bryant announced late today the granting of a permanent injunction against Governor K. S. Sterling and Brigadier General Jacob Wolters to prevent the enforcement of martial law in the east Texas oil field.

The decision was on a case heard before a three-judge federal court at Houston after a temporary injunction had been granted against the defendants.

New Republic of Ankuo Succeeds To Manchuria's Place in Orient

(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press.) MUKDEN, Manchuria, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The new Republic of Ankuo, born of military conquest, proclaimed its independence from China today and unfurled its five-barred rising sun banner over Manchuria and inner Mongolia.

The executive committee of northern Manchuria, composed of Chinese leaders raised to high places by the army of occupation, declared an area half again as large as the Japanese empire and holding 30,000,000 people to be what is generally regarded as a protectorate of Japan.

In flowery, classical language calling their country the land of milk and honey the proclamation asserted: "We have decided to sever relations with the Chinese government and to proclaim complete independence."

"The people have suffered long enough under the misadministration of Chinese rule. The military clique must be banished forever. The desire of the people for peace is like a starving man's hunger."

BATTLE CERTAIN AS BOTH NATIONS REFUSE TO YIELD

Japanese Will Hurl Might of Army, Navy and Air Force at Foes When Time Limit of Ultimatum Expires Tomorrow.

TOKYO'S DEMANDS HELD INTOLERABLE

By the Associated Press. The Chinese army, given until tomorrow sundown to evacuate their lines at Shanghai or suffer the brunt of the combined Japanese army and navy, replied today with a bombardment of the Chapel lighthouse.

Japanese headquarters said three Japanese bluejackets were killed in the defiant bombardment and that shells during the night also had fallen around the Japanese consulate and flagship Idzumi in the Whangpoo river.

Chinese officials at Nanking said China would resist any Japanese advance, not only at Shanghai, but throughout the country.

Lieutenant General Kenkichi Yueda, commander of Japan's land forces, served an ultimatum on the Chinese military staff demanding that they withdraw from the battlefronts of Chapel, Kiangwan and Woosung by 7 p. m. Saturday night (S. A. M. central standard time), or he will unleash his power in a major offensive.

The Chinese government indicated it had no intention of carrying out the demands. Officials called them "intolerable and absolutely unacceptable."

The ultimatum also stipulated that the forts at Woosung and Paoshan and the arsenal at Lung-shan be dismantled; that the Chinese military staff demand that the Japanese retreat from Shanghai; that the activities of the Chinese "irregulars" in Shanghai be discontinued; that the Chinese military staff demand that the Japanese retreat from Shanghai; that the activities of the Chinese "irregulars" in Shanghai be discontinued; that the Chinese military staff demand that the Japanese retreat from Shanghai.

The Japanese stand grew out of the refusal of the Chinese to accept the terms of an informal peace parley and was followed by the renewal of an artillery duel between the opposing armies in desolate Chongming.

American Minister Nelson T. Johnson, who has taken a prominent part in arbitration efforts, inspected a school of the American Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in Hongkong, which has been invaded three times by Japanese raiding parties and wrecked and its furnishings scattered.

The League of Nations' protest was described by the Japanese as "unacceptable."

A&P celebrates National Cherry Week by featuring this Two-Layer, Round, Cherry Cake. Large, Luscious Cherries have been placed on top of the snow-white icing for decorations, while the center filling is laden to its capacity with ground-up real cherries for flavoring! Only A&P could make such a cake as this to sell for so little!

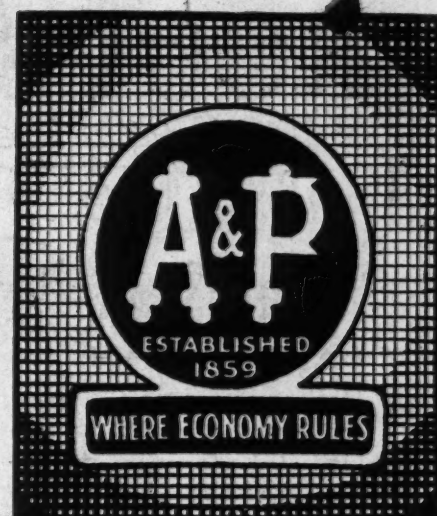

Commemorating the Principles on which A&P was Founded.

"The Proprietors became fully convinced several years ago," says an advertisement published in Harper's Weekly in 1867 by the founder of A&P, "that the consumers of Tea and Coffee were paying too many and too large profits on these articles of everyday consumption, and therefore organized this Company to do away, as far as possible, with these enormous drains upon the consumers, and to supply them with these necessities at the smallest possible price. . . . We propose to do away with all these various profits . . . with the exception of a small profit to ourselves—which, on our large sales, will amply pay us."

The founder's method of direct buying and small profits to ourselves applies today, not only to tea, but to every one of the 1,200 items we sell. Our policy was, is, and always will be, the elimination of unnecessary profits taken on food between the garden and the grocery shelf.

NEW SHOALS MEASURE IS ORDERED DRAFTED

Private Lease of Plant To Be First Goal of Proposed Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(P)—New Muscle Shoals legislation—with a private lease as its first goal, but with the government operation opposed by President Hoover as a second choice—was ordered drafted today by the house military committee.

Representative Hill, democrat, Alabama, was named to carry out the will of the committee after a 13-to-7 vote insured inclusion in the new bill of the government operation alternative. The bill President Hoover vetoed last year directed government operation unless, within one year, a lease containing specific limitations on the use of the property should be contracted by the president. The president's commission recommended private operation by a lessee on terms agreeable to the president. The leasing provision planned by the house committee would not be as liberal as that advocated by the shoals commission. Members of Hill's group said it would more nearly approximate the requirements of last year's vetoed bill and would contain an absolute minimum on the amount of fertilizer that must be produced on the project.

Fish stories of interest have come to us through the ages—ever since Jonah and the whale. It is of peculiar significance that no man who goes forth to fish can tell of his conquests of the sea without almost as much exaggeration as the symbolic story of Jonah and the whale. However much we might concede the Jonah story to be a myth, it is a fact not to be taken lightly that fish have stood as a symbol of importance in many Biblical events. In dividing the loaves and the fishes with the multitude, we have the feeling that the loaves and the fishes are the fundamental foods with which to bless a hungry throng—and so they are today. Given good bread and good fish we have a complete meal in itself—as nearly a perfectly balanced meal as it is possible to serve. Bread is an almost perfect food—containing large quantities of protein and carbohydrates. Fish, with its rich protein and fat, containing many minerals and vitamins, is the richest known source of iodine.

"What fish again?" from the husband will change to "Fish! Gee but it looks good" when he finds what a variety of sea foods you can give him. During Lent many kinds of fish may be prepared in all sorts of ways to make attractive dishes for the menu. Modern inventions have made it possible to bring to you daily all kinds of fish, as they were when taken out of the water—or if you prefer, you may take your pick from the cans on your grocer's shelf. The earliest method of food preservation was drying. In 1804 the French discovered that by cooking food thoroughly and drying it in a tin can, it could be kept for an indefinite length of time. Now, modern methods of refrigeration and storage make it possible for you to enjoy fish that are as fresh as if they had just been taken from a hook or a net. Frozen fillets are available in favor. They not only reduce the wear and tear on the housewife, but allow no waste. All frozen foods should be used as soon as they thaw. Fish is not only palatable and excellent from a dietary standpoint, but it is economical. Like other foods—being plentiful, it is selling at a much lower cost. Many families for this reason are including it in their menu twice a week, instead of only once. After all, what can be more appetizing than fish cooked your favorite way. Don't forget, too, that there are many new recipes for preparing sea food. Try serving your vegetables on the platter with fish. It not only saves you space on the table, and dishes to wash, but is decorative. There is always a new way to arrange it, too. We want you to enjoy your Lenten dishes and are giving you some of our menus and recipes to use. Try them, won't you, and send us some of yours.

Fish ranks first among the religious symbols used by the primitive Christians, while the use of fish in Pagan art is purely decorative.

Fish Fillets with Green Olive Sauce. Fish fillets, 2 tablespoons flour, beaten egg, 1 cup canned tomato soup, 5 dashes of cinnamon and the grated rind of a lemon. Fold in the outer edges and roll about four inches square. Bake 10 minutes at 450 degrees and continue at 400 until brown—which will require from 20 to 30 minutes. Sprinkle with confectioner's sugar.

Menu for Lenten Breakfast. Grapes, French toast, jam, coffee.

Luncheon. Cream of carrot soup, tomato, asparagus and green pepper salad, apple roll, cream cheese.

Dinner. Tomato juice cocktail, fish fillets on pineapple rings, tiny peas, mashed potatoes, beets, celery, olives, radish roses.

Breakfast. Orange juice, oatmeal, cream, cinnamon toast, coffee.

Luncheon for Lent. Cream of tomato soup, spaghetti shrimp casserole, coleslaw, rolls, hot tea.

Dinner. Spinach with cream sauce, cauliflower, carrots, rolls, fruit jello, whipped cream, coffee.

Spaghetti Shrimp Casserole. One small box spaghetti, 1 cup of white sauce, 2 cups shrimp, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 can mushrooms, 1-4 teaspoon pepper.

Cook spaghetti until tender in boiling water. Fill a buttered casserole with alternate layers of spaghetti, shrimp and mushrooms. Pour over white sauce made of 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour and 1 cup milk. Cover with grated cheese and bake for 1-2 hour in moderate oven.

Fish Fillets on Pineapple Rings. Prepare fillets for broiling by wiping with a damp cloth and dusting with salt and white pepper. Brush with butter or oil. Place on pineapple rings which have been arranged on a baking sheet. Place under a broiler and cook until done—basting frequently with melted butter. Sprinkle with paprika. The fish should cook at about 400 degrees. Being chiefly albuminous, it falls to pieces if the temperature is too low. About 15 to 20 minutes is sufficient for the fillets. Arrange on a platter—garnish with parsley and arrange vegetables on the sides. This makes a very colorful platter as well as a delightful meal.

Apple Roll. Two and a half cups flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons shortening, 2 eggs, 1-2 cup water. Mix and sift.

tender. Then add the flour, stir until smooth and then add remaining ingredients. When smooth and heated pour over fish fillets and serve.

The old Romans mixed fish and bread together and served it with wine. This for them made an entire meal.

Stuffed Halibut. Two large halibut steaks, 1 small onion minced, 1 cup cooked rice, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1 cup soft bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 No. 2 can crushed pineapple, 1 teaspoon poultry seasoning, 1-4 teaspoon pepper. Combine the rice, bread crumbs, crushed pineapple—drained—onion and seasonings. Spread this dressing on the fish fillets and place in a baking pan. Add the juice from the can of pineapple and bake in a hot oven of 450 degrees for about 40 minutes, or until tender. Serve 6 or 8.

Sardines Rabbit. One cup thin white sauce, 2 teaspoons mustard, 1 cup cheese, 8 sardines, 1-4 teaspoon paprika. To the thin white sauce add the cheese and mustard, and stir until it is melted. Add the sardines which have been skinned and boned—the mustard and paprika heat well and serve on buttered hot toast. Serves 6.

Many of the ancient writers speak of fish as delicious spiritual nourishment supplied by the Saviour of the Saints. In the Eucharistic monuments this idea is repeatedly expressed in pictorial form.

Baked Spanish Mackerel. One medium-sized mackerel, 1-2 teaspoon minced green pepper, 2 cups bread crumbs, medium salt, 1-4 cup summer savory, 1-2 small onion minced, 1-2 teaspoon salt—few grains pepper.

Mix together the bread crumbs, onion, chopped bacon, green pepper and seasoning, and spread on the fish which should be dressed for broiling. Place a slice of bacon on this and fold over the fish so that the dressing shows. Place on a trivet in a baking pan, lay the remaining bacon on top of the fish and bake 30 minutes in a hot oven of 425 degrees—basting frequently with the fat in the pan. Serve on a platter decorated with alternating rings of green pepper and sliced lemon. Accompany with the following sauce: Mix together 2 teaspoons green chopped pepper—4 teaspoons mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons chili sauce, and use at once. Serves 6.

Oysters à la Casino. Two dozen oysters on half shell, 4 slices bacon, 1-3 seeded green pepper, 1-2 teaspoon Roquefort cheese, 1-2 medium onion, 1-2 teaspoon butter, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.

Chop the green pepper and onion very fine and combine them. Cut the bacon slices with the scissors into thirds crosswise and then lengthwise. Melt the butter with the Roquefort cheese and add the Worcestershire sauce. Place a piece of bacon on each oyster, then spread each with a little of the chopped onion and green pepper mixture, and last, top with a little of the butter and cheese mixture dropped from the tip of a spoon. Arrange the oysters in their shells on the broiler rack, place under a medium broiler heat and broil from 10 to 15 minutes, or until they are tender. Clams on the half-shell may be prepared in the same way, or may be sprinkled with salt, pepper and paprika, brushed with melted butter and broiled 10 minutes.

Tomato Sauce. One tablespoon minced onion, 2 tablespoons chopped pickles, 3 tablespoons fat, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 3 tablespoons flour, 1 tablespoon capers, 2 cups canned tomato sauce or 1 cupful canned condensed tomato soup diluted with 1 cupful water, salt and pepper to taste.

Cook onion in fat until tender. Add flour and stir until bubbling; then add tomato sauce or diluted soup. When smooth and creamy, add pickles, parsley, capers, salt and pepper.

Egg Sauce. Two cups milk, 4 tablespoons fat, 4 tablespoons flour, 1-2 teaspoon salt, dash of pepper. Melt the fat in the top of a double boiler and add the flour, salt and pepper. Blend thoroughly. Pour in the cold milk and stir constantly until thick. Cover and cook without stirring 20 minutes. Add four slices of hard-boiled eggs.

Deviled Shrimp. Four tablespoons butter, 1-4 teaspoon mustard, 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce, few grains cayenne

THREE MEALS A DAY

KITCHEN TESTED RECIPES
by Sally Saver

Fried eggs are a suitable accompaniment.

New England Clam Chowder.

Stuffed Sardines.
One can boneless sardines, Harrow's brand, sliced lemon. Remove sardines from can—open each sardine and fill with Parmesan cheese. Press together and agree with sliced lemon. Crackers, plain or toasted, should be served with stuffed sardines.

One tablespoon flour, 1 cup Finnan haddie, salt, 1 1/2 cups hot milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 1/2 teaspoon pepper.

Mix pepper with flour in a saucepan with thick butter and cook until smooth. Then add the hot milk and Finnan haddie. Cover with grated cheese and cook five minutes.

The lobster was held sacred by the Ancient Greeks. If one was found dead, the people buried it with great ceremony and mourned over it as if it were one of themselves. As it was caught in a fish net it was immediately dropped back into the sea.

Salt Rising Bread.
A bread favorite of the early 60's was Salt Rising Bread, an amazingly healthful and different kind of bread. Using bread three times a day allows it to take a most interesting part in your menu planning. There are many different kinds of bread that we may use to make our meals exciting, and those who like Salt Rising Bread will be glad to know that now your grocer can give you salt-rising bread—the same kind that our mothers and grandmothers used to bake in brick ovens. This is the bread, you know, that is made with yeast foam and potato water, and has a distinct flavor of its own. Special breads such as raisin, nut bread and salt-rising bread are usually one-day specials or two day specials, for, after all, its standard white and whole-wheat loaf are the breads that we want every day at nearly every meal. These unusual kinds offer the variety that stimulate our bread appetite.

NOW SCIENCE TELLS WHY BRAN IS SO GOOD FOR HEALTH

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Has "Bulk" and Vitamin B; Also Healthful Iron

By using Kellogg's ALL-BRAN, millions of people have overcome common constipation, and the headaches, loss of appetite and energy that so frequently result.

New laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN supplies two things needed to overcome temporary and recurring constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to help tone the intestinal tract.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

Further experiments prove ALL-BRAN provides twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Eat this delicious cereal and avoid pills and drugs. They cause artificial action, and often lead to harmful habits.

Try two tablespoonfuls of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN daily—sufficient to overcome types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

ALL-BRAN has a delicious, nut-sweet flavor. Enjoy as a cereal with milk or cream, or use in making fluffy bran muffins, breads, omelets, etc. Recipes on the red-and-green package. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

tional Biscuit Company—butter and eggs, Brookfield—rolls, Colonial.

Mrs. Herman Turner, 30 Terrace drive, N. E., Atlanta, Ga.:

Spinach garnished with hard-boiled egg, Armour's star sausage patties, strawberry jam, bread, butter, peach halves with cream, coffee.

This meal can be prepared in 20 minutes. I use Armour's star sausage, Libby's spinach and peaches—Lippincott's jam, Merita bread, Bokar coffee, Dixie crystal sugar, Pet cream.

I buy all my groceries from Rogers.

When the Pilgrim Father raised his ax to chop off the head of the turkey, he was performing a preliminary to a feast. George Washington, too, raised his ax, but it was to chop down a cherry tree. Just as the turkey has become our Thanksgiving bird, cherry pie is becoming our national dessert. This week being National Cherry Week, we can't think of anything better to give you than a recipe for Cherry Pie. Mrs. Berry W. Miller, of Cherrylog, Ga., has sent us a fine old one that her grandmother used many years ago, and we are passing it on to you.

Cherry Pie.
Three eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 1/2 cups

Georgian Attempts To Produce Two Crops of Cotton in Year

Growing two stalks of corn where only one grew before long has been a farming maxim, but Senator Fred Hand, of Pelham, an exponent of progressive agriculture, is counting heavily now on growing two full crops of cotton this year where only one grew last.

The attempt, the south Georgian senator said Thursday, is well beyond the experimental stage and unless a sharp spell of cold weather sets in he expects tenants on one of his farms to be picking cotton while others, on nearby acres, are giving the "regular" 1932 crop its first chopping.

Unseasonable weather prompted the senator to try and produce two crops on the same land this year. Although planting in sections of Texas is ordinarily several weeks ahead of Georgia, no attempt has been made to grow but one crop annually on that fertile soil, Senator Hand said.

"I am not going to try the two-crop plan out on a big scale," he explained, "but I am going to set aside six acres."

"The 1931 stalks have never been killed and the warm weather has caused them to blossom again. Some of the blossoms are small but others are almost normal and the bolls are surprisingly large. It looks now that the first crop ought to be out of the field by late May or early June, in time to turn the furrows for a second crop."

In a commercial sense, the senator said, there will be a sharp reduction in this year's crop, due, first, to general economic conditions and, second, to the fact that the boll weevil has been thriving on the mid-summer weather.

Thurman To Speak.

Howard Thurman, member of faculty of Morehouse and Spelman Colleges, will be the principal speaker at the first meeting of the 27 Council Forum Sunday afternoon at the Episcopal parish house, Fort street near Auburn avenue. ### ALABAMA FARMER CLEARED OF MURDER

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., Feb. 18.—(AP) Frank Markham, Sharps Mountain farmer, who was accused of murder in connection with the death of his wife and baby girl in 1929, has been cleared of the stigma against his name, the second degree murder charge on the docket of the circuit court here having been not pressed because of the flimsiness of the state's evidence.

SOUTH'S PROSPERITY PREDICTED BY BYRD

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 18.—(AP) A prediction that return of good times will bring to the southland an undreamed of prosperity was made by former Governor Harry Flood Byrd, of Virginia, in an address today before the Kentucky general assembly.

Greeted by Lieutenant Governor Albert B. Chandler as "well worthy to make the ninth president Virginia has furnished the nation," the former executive of the mother commonwealth of Kentucky said he "was more interested in the return of the American people to the fundamental principles of representative democracy than in personal ambitions."

That was the only reference in his speech to talk of his being a candidate for the democratic presidential nomination.

On his arrival here he issued a statement that "only democrats can defeat the democratic ticket in November," and that "my name will not be used merely for the negative purpose of stopping any good democrat."

OPINION DIVIDED ON SUNDAY SHOWS

Managers Uncertain of Status Under Ruling on Charity Movies.

Opinion was divided Thursday regarding the status of Atlanta moving picture theater managers who operated last Sunday and were fined $50 and costs each.

Only one thing was certain—that Police Chief James L. Beavers will order arrests next Sunday if the theaters open as they did last Sunday under auspices of the emergency relief committee. The chief declared he would make new cases.

Theater managers were uncertain regarding their rights under the court's ruling and the appeal which Defense Attorney Walter A. Sims is preparing for the higher courts.

Controversial rumors that the police would actually close the theaters if they open Sunday, both City Attorney James L. Mayson and Mr. Sims said that law enforcement officers had no right to close the houses and that additional arrests was the only step left open to them if the houses operate.

The theater managers themselves, through their spokesman, Love Harrell, secretary of the Atlanta Theater Managers' Association, said Thursday that no definite decision had been reached as to whether or not they would open their houses Sunday. It was pointed out that if new cases were made and the recorders followed their action this week with $50 fines that many neighborhood theaters would actually lose money.

Members of the emergency relief committee pointed out that widespread suffering might result if the theaters discontinue Sunday operation for the benefit of charity, pending the decision of the higher court. Mr. Sims said that it would be several weeks at least before the court of appeals could review the case.

ZOO CARETAKER SAVES LITTLE GIRL FROM DROWNING

Five-year-old Mildred White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. White, of 750 Primrose avenue, today owes her life to a caretaker at the Grant Park zoo, who late Thursday afternoon rescued her from drowning in the lake at the park.

Little Mildred, according to police and hospital reports, fell into the water while attempting to wash her hands. Attracted by the screams of Mildred's 6-year-old brother, Edward, E. C. Nelson, caretaker at the zoo, jumped into the cold water and swam to shore with the small girl. She was rushed to Grady hospital for treatment.

According to Park Patrolman E. C. Hill Sr., the little girl and her brother had been warned twice that afternoon not to play by the lake, and Patrolman Hill said he had started the children on their way home once, but that they had eluded him and returned. Mildred was reported doing nicely Thursday night at her home, in spite of her icy bath.

PRISONER IS FREED FOR AID RENDERED IN ESCAPE INQUIRY

Because he convinced the prison commission that he told the truth in testifying during the investigation into recent sensational escapes at the state prison, the prison commission Thursday released a prisoner who had been recommended and Governor Russell granted a parole to Thax Williams, white, who had eight months of a year's sentence to serve.

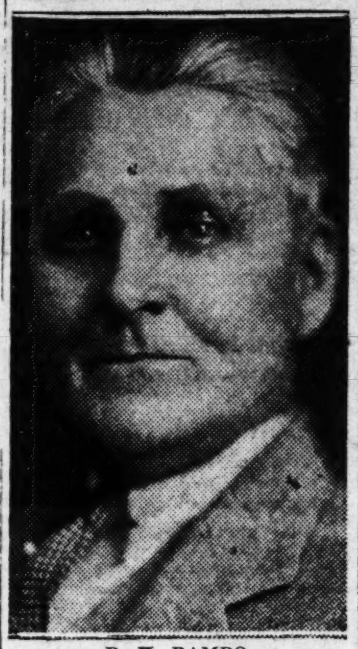

The commission has concluded its investigation, members said late Thursday, and the result will be announced some time today. One of the salient features of the report will be, it was indicated, to define the authority of B. H. Dunaway, superintendent, and W. L. Proctor, warden. Proctor was appointed after the Powers-Smith-Gardner escapes.

Just what was the nature of the evidence Williams gave the prison commission was not disclosed by the commission Thursday but, it is understood, will be incorporated in the findings when made public. He was sentenced to serve six months each in two cases brought against him in Randolph county for passing worthless checks. Prison officials said he had made an excellent record.

OMAHA, Neb., Feb. 18.—(AP)—G. H. Gregerson, of Davenport, Iowa, is persistence personified—but he, finally gave up.

He has written to an Omaha newspaper: "About 15 years ago you had a puzzle in your paper. Up to date I haven't been able to work it, and as I have never seen your answer to it, I have my doubts as to whether it may be solved."

Unable to find either the puzzle or the answer in its files, the newspaper appealed to its veteran readers for assistance.

What is this "Baked-in" Flavor?

* Fully protected by the exclusive New Merita Baking Process

"BAKED-IN FLAVOR" is just as simple as are the most great discoveries in perfecting foods. In the search for a more perfect loaf, Merita bakers discovered Baked-in Flavor almost overnight. Then came long months of testing and re-testing, proving and re-proving the new process. All this before a single loaf of Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread was offered to the public.

Then the new loaf was placed in the stores. The response from Southern housewives was immediate. They quickly expressed an overwhelming preference for Baked-in Flavor Bread.

The difference between Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread and ordinary breads is easy to understand.

Ordinary breads, baked in the ordinary way, allow much of the rich flavorful goodness, naturally present in fine ingredients, to bake out and escape from the loaves in the oven.

You know this to be true from your own experience.

In your own tidy kitchen you've often noticed the electable aroma of baking bread. This aroma was caused by nothing more nor less than the rich, elusive bread flavors escaping from the bread. And that's just how the flavors escape from ordinary breads while they are being baked.

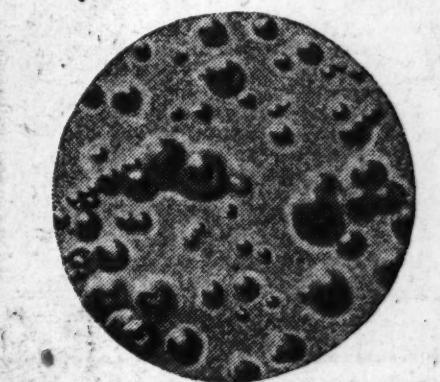

Merita has reversed this process. Instead of baking-out the flavors we bake them in, and hold them captive in the golden loaves you buy.

Simple, isn't it? Yes—and vitally important! Buy Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread today and experience its wonderful new taste-thrill. Forever after you'll keep it at the top of your marketing-list of good things to eat.

What Baked-in Flavor means

Above is an illustration of what you would see were you to examine a section of the top of an ordinary loaf of bread under the microscope while it was being baked. Here you see the microscopic bubbles that allow the flavor to escape and bake out. Much of the flavorful goodness of ordinary bread is thus baked away and the texture of the bread is left coarse and full of holes.

Here is a view of a section of the top of a Merita Baked-in Flavor loaf as it would appear under the microscope while it was being baked. Notice particularly the bubbles. They are much smaller and of more uniform size than those on the ordinary bread above. It is these small bubbles that keep Merita flavor from escaping and give Merita Baked-in Flavor Bread its "baking day" texture, its "baking day" flavor. It also makes Merita keep longer because the large holes left in the texture of ordinary breads will not retain freshness.

Says Examiner.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(P)—Management of the Tidewater Power Company, North Carolina utility in the Insull group, was described to the federal trade commission today by its examiner, Aaron J. Hughes.

The General Engineering and Management Company directed the company's affairs when A. E. Fitkin & Co. acquired control of Tidewater in 1922, Hughes testified. The Fitkin company owned the majority stock of the management company.

In 1928 the National Public Service Company made an agreement with the Electrical Management and Engineering Corporation to manage its subsidiaries, including Tidewater, National Electric Power Company, a member of the Insull group of holding companies, organized Electrical Management in 1925.

National Electric acquired control, Hughes said, of National Public Service and subsidiaries in 1927 and dissolved the General Engineering Company.

During 1928 and 1929, Tidewater paid fees of $35,000 to Electrical Management.

National Public Service received fees of $1,386,875 from Electrical Management during those years, representing fees paid to the latter by subsidiaries, Hughes testified. National Public Service paid the management company $15,000 monthly. Since 1929, he said, all charges made by the management company have been on basis of approximate cost of services rendered.

CHICAGO FACES CRISIS IN FINANCE SHORTAGE

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—(P)—Chicago, in the words of its mayor, faces its most serious crisis since the fire which destroyed it in 1871.

The city had borrowed to the limit of its bonding power. Its own citizens offered no market for its bonds. The legality of its tax bills was jeopardized in two unfavorable court decisions, and its employees were many millions behind in pay. The state legislature, convened to aid it, took a 60-day recess without relief legislation.

In this extremity, Mayor Anton Cermak, with words of bitterness against a heedless legislature, announced he would ask the city council tomorrow to cut 2,479 employees off the municipal pay roll.

"I don't know what else to do," he said. "But unless things straighten out, this cut may be followed by more."

Announcement of the slash sent representatives of 4,000 unpaid employees of Cook county, a homogeneous jurisdiction, to a protest meeting. Fourteen thousand school teachers, unpaid since September, called mass meetings. Some of them talked of a "walkout."

Chicago officials and Illinois legislators indulged in mutual recrimination. Each group accused the other of ill faith. Cermak blamed the legislators for recessing their special session yesterday without accomplishing the principal purpose of its call—tax relief for Cook county. Downstate leaders called him "insolent" and "ungrateful."

Informed that officials of Detroit had appealed for financial help to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the mayor looked hopefully toward its two-billion-dollar fund. He ordered the city attorney to investigate the possibility of an appeal in that direction.

DEFYING FLAMES
SEEKING CHILDREN,
NUN DIES IN FIRE

HAWTHORNE, N. Y., Feb. 18.—(P)—Defying flames that ate through St. Hyacinth's school today, an elderly nun groped her way from room to room to be sure all her little charges were safe, and went to her death while the rescued children looked on.

When the fire broke out in the Catholic institution shortly before dawn, the 20 nuns carried or guided the 25 children, ranging in age from 3 to 12, to safety.

Then Sister Rosa Alma, in charge of the school made a hasty check and found Sister Lowell Bernard, 67, was missing.

A shout went up from the shivering, scantily-clad children as they saw Sister Bernard through the flames. She was methodically going from room to room on the second floor to be sure no one had been left behind.

The huddled figures below shouted that all were safe, that Sister Bernard should flee for her own life.

But the aged nun was deaf. Unaware that she was alone in the burning building, she continued her errand of mercy.

She was still searching when the building collapsed. Hours later her body was found in the ruins.

BANDITS RAID BANK AND ABDUCT CASHIER

HARTMAN, Ark., Feb. 18.—(P)—The Bank of Hartman was robbed today of approximately $12,000 by two roughly dressed young men who abducted the assistant cashier, Buster Thompson, and let him out of their automobile at Altus after giving him a dollar and some cigarettes.

They later abandoned their car in the outskirts of Ozark when it went into a ditch, and they fled on foot into the hills with poses of officers and citizens in close pursuit.

DISBURSING OFFICE IS URGED FOR SOUTH

Point To Administer Agricultural Loans in This Section Asked by Sen. George

BY GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Senator Walter F. George of Georgia today urged Secretary of Agriculture Hyde to establish a regional disbursing office somewhere in the southeastern section of the country in order to expedite agricultural loans made under amendments to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act.

Senator George said it was his understanding that the finance corporation did not contemplate establishing branch disbursing offices in any section of the country except the far west.

"I do not believe," said Senator George, "that the funds allotted to agricultural loans can be effectively administered throughout the south from Washington. I did not insist upon the branch disbursing office being located in any given southern city, but Columbia, S. C., was suggested for the reason that this is a centrally located point and is already the seat of the federal farm loan bank and the credit intermediate bank."

Senator Ellison D. Smith of South Carolina and other congressional representatives of the southeast section joined with Senator George in urging Mr. Hyde to act favorably upon the request. The matter will be taken under advisement by the department of agriculture and early action is predicted.

Boy Playing in Box Killed by Police Car

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—(P)—Patrolman Albert Ott, driving a Brooklyn police tow car, sounded his horn. Three boys playing with a large paper carton scurried to the sidewalk.

Ott determined not to swerve, but to go right on over the paper box. His wheels hit it. The boys screamed. Ott jammed on the brakes. Too late.

Nine-year-old John Elliott lay inside the box, dead. His skull crushed.

TINKHAM CHALLENGES CANNON TO TRY SUIT

Early Hearing on $500,000 Libel Action Requested by Congressman.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(P)—Bishop James Cannon Jr. was challenged in the house today by Representative Tinkham, republican, Massachusetts, to arrange an open court trial of the clergyman's $500,000 libel suit against him.

The Southern Methodist churchman brought the suit on June 3, 1931, in the District of Columbia supreme court after Tinkham had charged both in the house and in a public statement that Bishop Cannon was a "shameless violator of the federal corrupt practices act."

Justice James Broctor, of that court, several days ago sustained the clergyman's demand for an indictment alleging violation of this act during the 1928 campaign and the governor's election.

Chinese in U. S. Will Buy Airships for Government

CLEVELAND, Feb. 18.—(P)—Chinese residents of Cleveland, Buffalo and Syracuse, N. Y., will purchase six airships for their government, Dr. Tzhi Haien, director of the Chinese board of trade in Boston, said here today.

He said the planes, which can be converted to military use, will cost about $100,000.

ermment has given notice of an appeal. Tinkham reviewed the findings of the senate campaign expenditures committee and said that while H. C. Jameson, of New York, testified to contributing $45,300 to the clergyman's anti-Smith committee, he failed to report $48,300 of the sum, as required by law.

"In order completely to expose this spurious self-designated moral leader and ecclesiastical whitened sepulcher," said Tinkham, "I challenge him to try his libel suit against me, and I hereby call upon him through his counsel to arrange with the counsel representing me for an early trial at this time of court before it adjourns at the end of June, that truth under oath shall be developed, not only for the benefit of the jury sitting to try this case, but for the information and enlightenment of that larger jury, the American people."

HOOPER 'ECONOMY' ASSAILED IN HOUSE

Rebukes of Administration Draw Spirited Defense by Republicans.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—A party war over President Hoover's proposals to reorganize the government broke out in the house today with republicans charging he failed to make specific suggestions for economy and republicans defending his plan.

Speaker Garner said the chief executive's message to congress yesterday showed that he wanted "to create a lot of new offices, but makes no specific recommendation for abolishing any." The democrats, he said, were seeking to eliminate bureaus and commissions to promote economy as a party policy.

In an indirect reply to the democrats, the White House tonight issued a 20-page mimeographed document, containing recommendations by Mr. Hoover for consolidations over the last 12 years.

Opening the debate on the supply bill for the state, justice, labor and commerce departments, Chairman Byrnes, of the appropriations committee, charged the president's message was sent to congress to stave off the favorable report by the expenditures committee on his bill to consolidate the war and navy departments.

One hundred million dollars could be saved annually by consolidating the war and navy departments, the Tennessee democrat declared in his attack on Mr. Hoover for opposing the merger.

Representative Mapes, republican, Michigan, and Representative Tilton, republican, Connecticut, arose in defense of the president. Mapes said Hoover had a consistent record of 12 years in attempting to reorganize the government, but that his efforts had been blocked by democrats in the house.

Tilton recalled that the president had urged economy steps in government operation in numerous instances. Meanwhile, the expenditures committee concluded hearings on the Byrnes bill to consolidate the war and navy departments, Chairman Cochran said he hoped it would be approved Saturday and reported to the house next week.

G. O. P. ADMINISTRATION DENOUNCED IN HOUSE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Representative Lester, democrat, Missouri, told the house today that "eleven years of republican administration have produced only a harvest of barren regrets, like Dead Sea fruit that tempt the eye but turn to ashes on the lip."

Because of the failure of the administration to fulfill its promises, he added, "in the 1932 election the democratic party will be returned to power with a commission from the people to remedy existing abuses, restore popular government and inaugurate an era of efficiency and economy in the administration of our national affairs."

On Dec. 19th, when alighting from a street car at Boulevard and 8th St., she was struck and knocked down by a truck. A facsimile of a $1,000 check paid to Miss Margaret E. Watson, sister and beneficiary of Miss Florence Watson, who was knocked down and run over by a truck at Boulevard and Eighth street on December 19.

Hundreds of the most ardent supporters of the business and professional community are self-supporting. Strict medical examination and high premiums previously have kept many young women from carrying such insurance. Constitution insurance stands as ideal service for women of this class and all others, the only requirement being that policyholders be Constitution subscribers, or members of families that subscribe.

No medical examinations are required and protection can be had for less than a very small percentage of Constitution subscribers and members of the subscribers' families have taken advantage of the opportunity to secure this protection, although it can be secured at a cost of only $1 per year for each person. This is just about 2 cents per week.

Every subscriber who has an automobile should take advantage of this insurance feature, for no one knows when an accident is going to happen. Those who are constantly on the street or occasionally or constantly riding in street cars, automobiles, railroad trains or buses owe it to themselves and to their family to protect themselves. This insurance is offered to subscribers to the daily and Sunday Constitution and to members of the subscriber's family between the ages of 15 and 65 at $1 per year per policy.

Those who are now subscribers should take advantage of this great insurance opportunity now before it is too late. After the accident has happened the application will not then be considered. Those who are subscribers can take advantage of this insurance feature by becoming subscribers.

The Atlanta Constitution was the first paper in this section of the south to offer this insurance feature, and since this service was inaugurated by The Constitution over $130,000 has been paid out to its subscribers.

For over ten years The Constitution has been urging its subscribers to take advantage of this insurance feature, and at no time have over 10 or 15 per cent taken advantage of the opportunity offered. This insurance feature is offered and maintained by The Atlanta Constitution for the benefit of its subscribers at a considerable cost to The Constitution.

Those living in Atlanta or in towns outside of Atlanta where The Constitution maintains a regular circulation office can have this insurance by signing an agreement to take the paper for 12 months, and can pay the carrier, if in Atlanta or the local office, the country towns at the regular rate of 20 cents a week or 90 cents a month. If sent by mail the regular subscription price to be paid in advance, plus $1 for the insurance.

The applicant should always give his name in full, age and occupation, and if beneficiary is stated give the name of the beneficiary. Turn to application blank in this issue, fill it out, sign and send with $1 today to The Atlanta Constitution.

GOVERNORS OPPOSE RAIL MERGER PLAN

Pennsylvania Activities Are Cited in Support of Government Regulation.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—(AP)—The activities of the Pennsylvania railroad were cited at separate hearings today to support government regulation of railroad holding companies and in opposition to the consolidation proposals of eastern carriers.

Governor Ely, of Massachusetts, said before Chairman Porter, of the interstate commerce commission, that many New Englanders believed Pennsylvania control of New England carriers undesirable, but that it dominated the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Maine.

He opposed a plan under which eastern lines would be merged with the Chesapeake & Ohio, the New York Central, the Pennsylvania and the Baltimore & Ohio. Governor Case, of Rhode Island, however, supported the four-line consolidation.

Dr. Walter Splawn, an economist specializing in transportation, said the Pennsylvania was approaching a position where it would be able to block rail consolidation proposals of the interstate commerce commission. He told the house interstate commerce committee it appeared to be using the Penn. Road Company, a holding organization, for acquiring control over other lines.

He said if a pending bill to put holding companies under the supervision of the commission were approved it would enable the commission to better handle the situation.

Governor Winant, of New Hampshire, supported Governor Ely's position. They said they spoke for the chief executives of Vermont, Connecticut and Maine, and stressed the fact that they were opposing the four-line plan only as it affected New England lines. The Pennsylvania should direct itself, they said, of its holdings in the New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Boston & Maine.

Major Charles Beasley, of Garland City, reported a flood stage a month ago had caused the river banks to cave and that much additional rise would result in the levee's collapse and inundation of a large area of bottom land. An auxiliary levee may be constructed behind the danger spot, he said.

The Little river, Washita and other streams in southeast Oklahoma were reported rising rapidly, with highways between Idabel, Broken Bow and DeQueen, Ark., under water.

'RUE MORGUE' FEATURE AT CAPITOL TODAY

"Murders in the Rue Morgue," made by Universal from the strange story by Edgar Allan Poe, with Bela Lugosi, the Count Dracula of "Dracula," in the part of Dr. Mirakle, the mad scientist, opens a week's engagement at the Capitol theater today. It is said to be a worthy successor in its strangeness and eeriness to both "Dracula" and "Frankenstein," two thrillers made by the same company. No more weird plot was ever conceived than that put in words by the writer, Poe. His principal character, Dr. Mirakle, seeks to definitely prove or disprove the theory of Darwin on man's kinship to the ape and from this idea he develops a story that leads to the death of four women and the half-insane scientist and comes near meaning the death of the beautiful Sidney Fox, playing the part of Miss D'Espannay. Added features are Chic Sale in a burlesque comedy, "Many a Slip," and the Universal news reel, with Graham McNamee as the talking reporter.

SMITH WILL ARRIVE EARLY SATURDAY

Rennie Smith, late member of parliament, will arrive in Atlanta Saturday morning to be the guest speaker of the Atlanta League of Women Voters that day at the Henry Grady hotel at 12:30 o'clock. Mr. Smith will lecture on "Unemployment and Poverty—What Can America and Britain Do?" A luncheon will precede the address.

Mr. Smith lectured here in the fall of 1930, when he was a member of the British parliament. Since then he was defeated in the downfall of the labor government.

Charges for Saturday's luncheon and lecture will be $1, but for those desiring to attend only the lecture, the price will be 50 cents.

APPEALS FOR MARBLE IN P. O. STILL FILED

Despite the fact that Congressman Ramspeck has asserted that in so far as the use of Georgia marble in the new postoffice building here is concerned, that the matter is closed, Atlantans and Georgians continue to pour telegrams into Washington to the state's representatives there urging that the matter be continued until the marble is purchased in this state.

It has been learned that the Great Lakes Construction Company has not yet let the sub-contract for Indiana limestone and that a change in specifications would be possible even if contract had been let. The text of most of the telegrams was to change to specifications.

LEVINSKY'S GIVEN DECISION BY EXPERTS

Old Pop Time Beckons as "King" Outpoints Dempsey

At the peak of their careers, with the cheers and plaudits of the multitude in their ears, the champions in the prize ring always feel a surge of sympathy for the old-timers who are carrying on when their duty is done.

And they always resolve, in the flush of youth and power, that they will never be seen trying on weak legs to avoid the lunges of a young man on the way up.

But they never learn. They always forget. There was John L. Sullivan, fat and dissipated with the trim, young lines of his youth all gone, banging on bars and boasting he could beat any blankety-blank in the land. And a young bank clerk named Jim Corbett knocked him out in New Orleans.

And there was freckled Bob Fitzsimmons and Corbett sprawled on his back in the blood and resin. And Fitzsimmons on his back and the heavy frame of the young Jim Jeffries over him.

Jeffries, bloody and still at Reno; Johnson looking at the hot sun in Havana; Willard butchered at Toledo—

A young man on the way up with strong legs and eager fists. A former champion on the way down—

Dempsey, on tottering legs at Philadelphia and Chicago—

And now Dempsey against a young palooka whom he would have knocked out in a round ten years ago. Of 24 boxing experts at the ringside, 18 favor the young Levinsky.

The old Bourbons never learned anything and they never forgot anything.

Neither do our prize ring champions. Dempsey, all washed up, won't quit.

It is true that 23,322 paid to see the greatest ring idol since Sullivan. But where is the Dempsey of a dozen years ago who said they would never see him in there fumbling for the lost dream against a younger man on the way up?

WHY, BOYS!

Can it be that some of the boys have been teaching something they shouldn't—those who are moaning because the new football rules prohibit and give opportunity to detect where none existed before—the striking of blows with the heel of the hand and the fist?

Because if they haven't, why all this moaning and gnashing of bridgework at the new rules? They do not prohibit the use of hands. As long as those elbows don't come back and a blow isn't struck there is no penalty.

Have the boys been hitting and don't want to stop? That's the logical deduction. Because that is the only restriction on the use of hands.

WESTBROOK'S DEDUCTIONS.

Joe Westbrook, one of the better football players in his day and a member of the 1928 championship Tech team, likes the new rules.

"There isn't any doubt but what a lot of linemen simply tried to make their opponents' faces look like raw beefsteaks," said Westbrook. "And in doing that they didn't play as well as they might had they stuck to legitimate use of the hands."

"And there won't be one man in a thousand to fall down and have the opportunity to get up and go again. The new rules are going to help the game."

A HOUSE DETECTIVE OR NOT.

Next week will find the hemming and hawing members of the Southern conference executive staff debating the advisability of a commissioner, or a "house man."

The odds are not so heavily in favor of the appointment of the football czar. Some of the boys don't want one and there is sound reasoning on their side.

The conference is almost too large for a commissioner. There is no assurance that all the members would join in heartily and open their files. In fact, there would be some secret files. I am afraid that the commissioner would be forced to do a lot of gumshoe work. In fact, I am about persuaded that as long as there are 23 members in the conference there is no need trying to have a commissioner.

If one is not appointed I am told that there is a determined little group which will withdraw and play their own schedules. This might be better. The large group is split into three factions. If we can get one of them out things will improve.

At any rate, the meeting ahead will be interesting and instructive. Shall we have a house detective or not?

DOONAN OPTIMISTIC.

While Maryland and Kentucky continue to look like the royal pair in the tournament contestants, there is a growing feeling that it may not happen.

Some upstart may be "hot" and take one of the favorites out of the play early. This might not add to the interest in the tournament. But it would be startling.

There are a lot of difference in teams from one night to the next. One night a team has that intangible something which makes them toss in almost every shot. The next night they are usually faced with balls that rim the basket and fall out, shots that strike the board and bound crazily. It seems that most anything can happen in any game.

MORE MERCER GAMES.

Mercer, under Lake Russell, is showing a distinct advancement in sport. And the advancement is legitimate. Games with Tech and Georgia in basketball should be supplemented with football games.

An early season game with Mercer would do much to build up athletics generally in the state. There are many Mercer alumni in Atlanta who would contribute to the crowds.

Lake Russell's basketball team is one of the cleanest to perform here. The Tech-Mercer game was one of the models for sportsmanlike basketball. Russell has done much to build good sportsmanship in Macon's institution.

LOCAL COACHES AGREE HEARTILY ON NEW RULINGS

Robertson, Siding With Alex, Sees Improvement in Changes.

By Jimmy Jones.

A complete concurrence in favor of the new changes in the football rules has been voiced by Atlanta's college coaches.

Yesterday, Harold J. Robertson, coach of the Oglethorpe Stormy Petrels, sided with W. A. Alexander, coach of Tech by not only stating he saw nothing derogatory in the new changes, but that he considered them worthwhile improvements.

Robertson sees in the three major innovations the elimination of several evils that have prevailed in the game during the present decade.

HIS VIEWPOINT.

He sizes them up as follows: The change whereby the ball will be declared "dead" the minute the runner is down will eliminate the practice of "piling on," to which he attributes most of the recent injuries.

The rule forbidding blockers or tacklers leaving their feet not only will eliminate further chance of injury but will develop more accuracy in blocking.

The change in the kickoff eliminates three more dangers—the flying wedge, the low fast kick and the flying tackle.

But the rule that Robertson likes best of all is that which forbids "striking."

"It will put an end to 'grudge' feuds or individual playing and puts the use of hands in the proper place," declared Robertson.

"A lineman may still use his hands by keeping them in front of him (which is the proper position) to ward off an opponent, and besides, he can get through the play better," the coach pointed out.

NO CONFUSION.

Robertson also believes there will be no confusion on the part of the officials in making decisions on such violations.

"All they have to do is stand behind the line and watch the players' elbows when they come behind their backs," he said.

In upholding his point, the Petrel coach compared a defense lineman to a prizefighter—he can use his hands more effectively when flat on his feet and set, than he can when lunging or swinging off balance.

"My experience has been that a lineman who concentrates on one man's face rarely gets through to stop a play," he stated.

Robertson's comment on the elimination of flying blocks was very interesting.

"Most coaches instruct their players not to leave their feet until at the moment of contact, anyway, and as for myself, I always instruct my players to maintain their leg drive as far as possible and then take their man out with a shoulder or a quick switch of the body."

ONLY PROBLEM.

The coaches' only problem now is to teach their men to employ correct timing on blocks down the field, particularly in taking out the secondary or safety man.

"Flying or rolling blocks aimed at safety men are frequently missed because of foolish and wild chances," he added.

And in case of a penalty on leaving the feet, it will only be five yards from the point of foul, he further explained.

Nutty Campbell pointed out that a receiving team could fair-charge the short kicks on the kickoff at the same time, long returns for touchdowns which frequently spoiled well-played games, would be eliminated.

When one takes the changes at face value, he readily sees how much good common sense there is to them, both coaches agreed, Robertson, while not agreeing with the ideas of radical reformers, said that coaches like Yost and Alexander certainly would not be a party to anything detrimental to the game.

He also liked Yost's idea of investigating the injuries.

Mike Chambers, Tech trainer, who has contended all along that players leaving their feet accounted for many injuries, sees an end to "bad knees" now.

Members of the Alumnae team have been practicing regularly with various colleges, including Oglethorpe, Agnes Scott, University of Georgia and the Georgia State College for Women.

They are Aline Fraser, Margaret Morgan, Dorothy Fugitt, Margaret Varde-man, Aline Sefton, Anne Scott Harman, Marjorie Tindall, Mary Hutchinson, Dorothea Blackshear, Katherine Culbertson and Jeanette Millard.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Shreveport, La., has been awarded the 1932 girls' national A. A. U. basketball tournament which formerly had been assigned to Dallas. It was announced here today by L. D. Bennett, of New Orleans, secretary and treasurer of the Southern A. A. U. officials and the Dallas Salesmanship Club, sponsors, to agree on a contract.

HUNT BATTLES CORRI TONIGHT AT AUDITORIUM

Pair Clash in 10-Round Bout on Pa's Card.

Babe Hunt, the six-foot four Oklahoma, and Pietro Corri, of Austria, will headline Atlanta's opening heavyweight show of 1932 tonight at the Atlanta auditorium when they meet in the 10-round feature of a show co-promoted by Max Abelson and Pa Stribling.

The curtain-raiser, which opens the valve of 28 rounds of boxing, will come promptly at 8:30 o'clock.

In the semi-final, two willing fighters will furnish the action in the persons of Sailor Jake Denning, of Savannah, and Benny Logan, slugging South Carolinian.

The men are light heavyweights. Babe Hunt and Corri will weigh in before Dr. Arnold in the Atlanta boxing commission's offices in the Atlanta National Bank building at 2 p. m. today.

The "big gusher" of the western plains is expected to hold a slight weight advantage over the rugged and stouter Corri, as the Babe tips the scale at 198 pounds. Corri, somewhat shorter, is compactly built and will come in at around 188.

Max Abelson expressed himself last night as being well pleased with the outlook for a crowd. The advance ticket sale has been going, along, briskly at the two downtown points, the Wilmet hotel and Pryor Coffee shop, and indications are that the attendance will be better than average. Abelson is not anticipating a record house, but believes that the prevailing prices will be appreciated by the public.

He believes he has two well-matched bouts in his main go and semi-windup. Hunt and Corri are well on a par in ability.

GOOD RECORDS.

Both have fought and beaten some leading title contenders, including men like W. L. Stribling, Jack Renault, Jack Dorrall, K. O. Christner, Johnny Risko, Big Bill Hartwell, James J. Braddock, Angus Snyder, George Hoffman and others.

While Corri did not succeed in beating Stribling in their two meetings, he had the Georgia heavyweight on the floor at Tampa right after Stribling had beaten Phil Scott and Von Porat. Hunt has fought Stribling twice and won one of the bouts.

He also made a good showing in a four-rounder with Jack Dempsey recently.

Corri, who is rated a tough boxer, proved to be an obstacle to Stribling in his bid for the Schaaf bout, as W. L. cracked him left and right and with him at Birmingham and had to postpone the bout.

OTHER BOUTS.

"Geese and ducks—millions of them—have been feeding in the territory about Cuba's Gap, at the mouth of the Mississippi, 100 miles below New Orleans," he said. "Thousand upon thousands have been slaughtering them and selling them to New Orleans restaurants in violation of the migratory bird act."

'USE OF HANDS' CHANGE IS NOT HARM TO GAME

Georgia Athletic Director Says Critics Will Like Alterations.

(Editor's Note: H. J. Stegeman, athletic director at the University of Georgia and a member of the national football rules committee, will contribute to The Constitution sports section a series of articles discussing the new grid rules. The first of the series appears below, and deals with the rule regulating the use of hands.)

By H. J. Stegeman, Member Rules Committee.

The action of the football rules committee this year in deviating from the policy of the last few years by making several changes in the rules has already caused considerable comment, both complimentary and derogatory. It is almost a certainty, however, that all of the criticism will disappear as an understanding of the reasons for the changes comes about and as the changes are assimilated into the game.

Any action of the committee has always received severe criticism in past years. But it has always been the history of the case that by the next fall many of the most outspoken critics have been reformed into enthusiasts. This was the case of the shift rule, today accepted as one of the most satisfactory changes ever made in the game. There was an intense wave of criticism when that rule was passed, but no one ever hears a word of it now.

The same was true of the screen pass rule, the fumble rule, the lateral pass rule. In fact a dozen or more important changes in the last six or seven years have changed the game into what it is today, the best regulated intercollegiate game in existence. None of the predictions that the game would be a molly-coddle affair or outdoor basketball or a pink tea have come true.

MOST IMPORTANT.

To my mind the most important change in the rules is the one relating to the use of hands by defensive linemen. In actual fact this rule has been in force for several years, in that it was illegal for a player to strike an opponent with the heel of the hand. But it was almost impossible to enforce this rule unless the action was so flagrant that it could be termed unnecessary roughness. Nearly all of the bad feeling that springs up between teams and nearly all of the trouble that players have on the field among themselves come from the use of hands on the head in the scrimmage line.

The contact there is so personal and the methods of lining up vary so greatly that offensive linemen are always complaining to officials about illegal use of hands. The removal of this trouble will go a long way toward keeping rivals more friendly than any change that has been made in many years.

If the methods of all coaches in teaching defensive lining play were exactly the same there probably would

Bob Neyland To Confer On Job

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Coach Bob Neyland, of Tennessee University, told the Journal today that he probably will go to Madison, Wis., next week to confer with University of Wisconsin athletic officials regarding the head coach job left vacant by the resignation of Glenn Thistlewaite.

He said Wisconsin officials had offered to pay his expenses to come there for a conference.

Neyland previously had said he was "not interested" in the Wisconsin offer.

In the meantime Neyland has not signed a 1932 contract with the University of Tennessee.

There has been little necessity of this change. The provision making taping of the hands illegal except in cases of injury last year was expected to remove a great deal of the trouble in the line, but the purpose was not accomplished.

TAPE TROUBLES.

Every one recalls the unnecessary taping of hands that was in vogue several years ago when the warriors in the line each brandished a pair of bludgeons that had been hands before the adhesive tape was applied. Ninety-nine per cent of this bandaging was for the purpose of damaging the opponent rather than for the protection of the player wearing it.

It is interesting to note that several of the most prominent coaches in the Southern conference were in favor of this change before it was adopted. Byrd, of Maryland; Thomas, of Alabama; Wallace Wade, of Duke University; Backman, of Florida; Laval, of South Carolina; and Alexander, of Georgia Tech, all were positive in demanding some change in this rule.

Mehre, of Georgia, was strong for a limitation of the use of hands with a suggestion that appeared to me to be the best of any received up to that time. His suggestion was that at no time should a defensive man be allowed to draw his elbows behind his body in order to strike an opponent with the hand. I have no doubt but that the final interpretation of this rule will follow along the line of Mehre's suggestion. I imagine that with coaches of this caliber strongly advocating this change there was plenty of justification for it, and there is little likelihood that the game will be changed because of this revision.

WISE WORDS.

The rule will still allow defensive linemen to ward off or push aside their opponents by using the hands on the head. The aim of the rule was to eliminate the actual striking. I do not see that this will cause any trouble for officials, for any official who cannot distinguish between striking and pushing should not be officiating. It is the intent of the action that determines a foul in hair line differences.

Most certainly this rule will eliminate the use of hands on the head or face for the purpose of punishing an opponent. There should be no room on the football field for any athlete who practices such methods today or for any team whose coach teaches such methods.

GEORGIA BEATS FLORIDA, 36-20; 'WILD BILL' STARS

Bulldog Center Scores 16 Points; Second Game Tonight.

By Al Smith. ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 18.—The siege guns of Georgia's heavy artillery had the range here tonight and the Bulldogs scored almost at will to defeat Florida's Gators, 36-20, in the first of a two-game series at Woodruff hall. The second game will be played Friday night.

William (Wild Bill) Strickland, tall, rangy Bulldog center, rang up 16 of his team's points. "Wild Bill," the pride of Buchanan, Ga., sent 11 points booming through the hoop in the first half and started the scoring off in the last period.

Georgia opened the game with a field goal to take the lead. Then for six minutes neither team was able to score. Florida took a momentary lead at 5-2, but Strickland, Terrell and Moran got together to put the Bulldogs' ball out in front. Georgia led 17-11, at the half time.

The Bulldogs came back in the beginning of the last half to pull well out in front with the game practically in the bag with 10 minutes to go. A stream of Georgia and Florida substitutes poured into the game during the last five minutes of play.

The game was roughly played and a total of 18 personal fouls were called on the two teams. With Georgia getting 13 to Florida's five, Captain Smith, of the Bulldogs, was banished from the game.

The Georgia freshmen defeated Darlington High school, of Rome, 34-13, in a preliminary to the varsity game. Buck Chapman starred for the Bulldogs as freshman Coach Johnny Broadnax used 18 members of his squad. The freshmen play G. M. C. in a preliminary to Friday's Georgia-Florida game.

NEW MARKS SET IN DUCKPIN PLAY

Three high marks for the week were established Thursday night at the Atlanta bowling alleys in the third annual city duckpin championship tournament. The singles, doubles and team mark was set a few pins higher, due to the keenest competition of the week's play.

Lewis Outler, rolled 368 pins, to take the lead in the singles, while Bob Hummer, with 354 pins, went into second place Thursday. The Atlanta Bowling Alleys went into the team lead with 1731 pins, while the Hasbans rolled themselves into second place with 1,724, displacing the former leaders.

In the doubles, Smith and McAdams, with 698 pins, sent Chandler and Puckett, former leaders to second place with 685 pins. Howard "Strike" Parker gave the bowling fans a treat when he rolled three successive strikes, but weakened during the remainder of his game. Three strikes in a row is unusual in tournament play here.

Freedom of Georgia Press Is Topic of W. T. Anderson

Macon Editor Hits Libel Law in Press Institute Speech.

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 18.—(AP)—W. T. Anderson, the Macon editor, says there is no such thing as freedom of the press in Georgia. The law forbids it.

Mr. Anderson, who is president and editor of the Macon Telegraph and of the Macon News, was principal speaker tonight at the opening session of the fifth annual session of the Georgia Press Institute, at the school of journalism of the University of Georgia.

He said that under the Georgia libel laws, if a newspaper innocently makes an error of statement, it is subject to libel action. But, he added, "if a man shoots another and kills him, and can show that it was unintentional, that man goes free."

"We should get our laws amended so that we shall at least be on a footing with the man who unintentionally kills his fellow man. Surely a mistake about a man, however damaging, is not so serious as to kill him."

And under our present laws no amount of correction or apology is an offset to libel, but can only be taken into account by the jury fixing damages as they see fit, in their opinion, extent of the injury to the injured party.

"Thus we come to the other point for consideration in the liberty of the press, with special reference to Georgia newspapers. We have our protection in the law in the way that try these cases. We feel that we speak somewhat as cathartically, but we have defended something like a half-million dollars' worth of damage suits."

"Be it said to the credit of the people who make up our jury, who have an appreciation of good intentions and the value of a newspaper that it believes makes a fight for human rights against wrongs of every kind and in every place, this half-million dollars of libel suits has only cost us about $100,000."

On January 28, 1920, he married Miss Kittie Stubbs, daughter of Elder M. F. Stubbs, and the two organized a family, which they successfully managed.

Mr. Strong was a member of the First Baptist church of LaGrange. He is survived by his wife, four brothers, John of Atlanta; William of Abbeville; Joe, of Roanoke, Ala.; and James B. Strong, of Paris, Texas; by one sister, Mrs. C. L. Dix, of Morris, of Texas.

A report of the meeting made public Thursday shows a decline of only 13 per cent during the year in the surplus of $1,037,261.68.

It was pointed out that the majority of the company's investments are in government, state and municipal bonds, and first mortgages on city real estate. That, it was stated, accounts for the relatively small fluctuations in the value of the company's assets.

Total income for the year was reported as $812,575.63 and disbursements as $702,222.20.

The company was chartered in 1859 and had been in continuous operation for 73 years, during which time it has paid a total of $1,000,000 in dividends for losses sustained.

At a meeting of the directors held at the company's headquarters, it was announced that the company will take part in the performance.

OCILLA'S ONLY RAILWAY IS FACING COLLAPSE

Bus, Truck Competition Hit by Newspaper; Urges Rail Line Patronage.

OCILLA, Ga., Feb. 18.—Faced with the junking of the town's only railroad, as the result of bus and truck competition, the Ocilla Star, weekly newspaper here, appeals editorially to the people of the section to restore rail line patronage.

"Probably half the cotton received in Ocilla last year was shipped by rail," the paper says. "Some of these trucks have paid no revenue at all except the little they paid on gasoline bought in the state. Other trucks have been hauling and still are hauling over our costly paved highways from six to nine tons with license tag for only a ton and half truck."

"What can we do about it? We have contributed to the loss of business by the railroads by having much of our freight sent by trucks. We can stop that and make a point of seeing that all our freight is shipped by rail—that is if we want a railroad."

Continued loss of business will force the railroad to apply to the interstate commerce commission for permission to transport heavy freight on the line, according to the Ocilla paper. This would leave the town without a railroad and no practical means of transporting heavy freight.

As a consequence the people living along the line, from Abbeville to Ocilla, and throughout the section, would be seriously inconvenienced, it is claimed.

Hamilton Lewis Would End Loans To Foreign Nations

Farmer Fatally Cut In Fall Against Ax

GRiffin, Ga., Feb. 18.—Harry Rogers Sr., well-known farmer who lived about one mile from Griffin, died this afternoon of wounds in the throat. Mrs. Rogers said that her husband was bringing wood when he stumbled and fell and it is believed the fatal injuries were caused when he fell against the blade of an ax.

Mr. Rogers was about 60 years of age. He is survived by his wife and several children. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon from the parlors of Halsten Bros. Interment will be at Thomaston.

Addressing the Savannah Bar Association, Senator Lewis said that the making of emities in efforts to collect the loan and end the continuing of hatreds and antagonisms under the delusions that the advances of loans gave opportunity for trade and restore lost friendships to the United States.

He proposed a government agency to determine the needs of foreign countries in distress and that the necessities be purchased from American farmers and factories.

The plan, he said, would send abroad surpluses of this country, but would hold the money for the American treasury or distribute it among the people.

He charged that foreign loans had been used to purchase commodities from rival nations and surpluses turned into armaments the United States is trying to reduce.

Losses to investors in South and Central American bonds "threaten to reach four billions of dollars," Senator Lewis said, and added that losses of European issues would "approximate ten billion."

CURB LIST SHOWS IRREGULAR GAINS

BY CLAUDE A. JAGGER.
NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—(P)—The curb market worked irregularly higher in quieter trading today. Turnover was about 170,000 shares, or 100,000 less than yesterday's.

Utilities were generally firm.
Attempts to bid up the oil shares were not very successful. Standard of Indiana closed at 15 1/2. Gulf gained 3-4 in a small turnover. Mining issues were mostly inactive.

In the industrials, Mead Johnson reacted on its earnings statement for 1931, showing $7.66 a share against $9.51 in the previous year, with a 4-point upturn.

American Cigar made one of its infrequent appearances, moving up 5 to a new 1932 high at 145.

RECEIVER IS SOUGHT FOR BROOKS ESTATE

Legates Petition Judge
Pomeroy To Restrain Trust Company From Selling
Assets

Fulton superior court Thursday was asked to take jurisdiction of the estate of Mrs. Dora E. Brooks, a prominent clubwoman of Forsyth, who died recently, in a petition filed by legatees who have a claim against the Trust Company of Georgia as executor.

The petitioners allege that Mrs. Brooks left an estate valued at more than $75,000, and that her husband, John Brooks, died in 1900. The Trust Company of Georgia, as executor for both estates, is seeking to have the estate of John Brooks liquidated to satisfy certain debts which the plaintiffs claim should be paid from the estate of John Brooks. The court majority granted a temporary order restraining the trust company from selling the assets, and set the case for trial.

The plaintiffs are: J. W. Winters, Mrs. Sarah B. Dobbins, Miss Inez Minter, Mrs. Estelle J. Powderly, Mrs. W. E. Boham, Mrs. Theodosia

Rockham Pasley, Miss Nancy Head, Miss Margaret Homet, Both Mr. and Mrs. Wood's requested the building of their estates to the Home for Geriatric Women, at Forsyth, after making the necessary bequest. Relative attorneys are represented by Attorney J. C. Richard Bowden.

Martin's Summer

BY VICKI BAUM.

CHAPTEL XLII.

"Good evening sir," he said respectfully. They used to call him Old Owl,

The sun shone in an open window. Trailers of wild vine hung in front of it, softly transfused with a beautiwhen they were boys. Old Owl had always interfered in matters that did not concern him, and this time he was removing the dressing from Martin's arm. Then he looked at the arm and tapped it with an object resembling a fountain pen. This was decidedly unpleasant. Martin had large, broad teeth in his shrunken mouth, and when he clenched them with a snap.

"Course, my dear boy," Old Owl

Dr. Mayreder—yes, that was the name of that stout fellow—put a brilliant light near him. It was evening or night. Then he said: "The professor has come from Salzburg to see you well, Martin. So don't be afraid. You're coming through all right." Martin was not at all less afraid. "Oh, rather," he said, and grinned with all his white teeth. "I'll get back."

through. "I'm through already," I said had the letter, too—"dear fellow," said Old Owl, benevolently. "We shall have to make a little incision. You won't mind that. You won't feel anything. We shan't be long about it, you'll see."

Martin became a little more alert at the words "long about it." He made no answer. He was silent for a minute perhaps, and during this minute light and surprise.

"Well—do you feel better?" asked Puck, as she laid her hand on his temples and then in the hollow of his neck, under the sinus muscle. "You have no fever now. You're come through."

Martin thought. He was cautious of having something good behind and also in front of him, and he was conscious of the fact that he was not yet healed, and he was not yet safe. He was not yet safe. He felt

"Yes, I'm through now," he said slowly, reflecting. His head was bowed, his eyes cast down. "I feel like I've been through a sharp pin in my shoulder. It's almost pleasant pain in my shoulder."

"Why do you straightaway imagine that I'm a little bit of a coward?" asked Tiger. "We have got to cut away a little—to get to the bottom of it. We shall only cut as far as is necessary. But so much we must cut away—even if it were the arm. But I don't think I shall be so bad as that. We'll soon put you right."

Martin lay back on the pillows a moment and shut his eyes. He was tired, utterly tired out. He saw the women, who had worked hard and long, and who were happy and gay, and was waiting for him in Waikiki. And now they came along and took off his arm, this sick and miserable man, lay beside him in the bed as if it did not belong to him.

"Pity," he said in a low and resigned voice. He gave way to a moment's rage against the deaf-and-dumb girl to whom he owed that dive into the water.

wholly used up as swimmers, which had ended in his being disqualified and had finally brought him to his present place. A nun bent over him and unbuttoned his night shirt as if he were cold. He thought of the remedy to his thigh. He then lifted from the bed and laid somewhere where it felt cold and where rays of

"I'd give a lot to save my arm, doctor," Martin said, now in full possession of his senses. "I'm a rich man, and I'd give you ten thousand marks. I can't do without the arm. I hold the two-hundred-meter record for Austria as an amateur swimmer. I've been married to him for years and had just come to see how he was. Martin's heart beat hard enough to burst his ribs."

Infanta Beatrice To Wed Prince; Aunt Recovers $5,000,000 in Gems

BY MARY KNIGHT.

(Copyright, 1932, by the United Press.)
PARIS, Feb. 18.—(UP)—The Infanta Beatrice, aunt of the exiled Spanish monarch, Alfonso, and "Grande Dame" of the Spanish royal family, today made a double announcement. Acting for her nephew, she announced the engagement of his daughter, the Infanta Beatrice, to her cousin, Prince Alvaro de Bourbon Orleans. The marriage will take place some time before July 15.

Speaking for herself, Infanta Beatrice announced that the Spanish republican government had found her trunk containing $5,000,000 in jewels, which had been missing for 14 years. The trunk will be sent to her in Paris.

In an exclusive interview with the United Press, the Infanta, vivacious and gay for all her 68 years, praised the honesty of the republican government which upset Alfonso's rule and sent the royal family into exile. "They thought I was crazy when I insisted I had shipped jewels worth $5,000,000 pre-war francs from Paris to Madrid, in 1918," she laughed. The trunk was discovered in an inventory of the contents of the royal palace in Madrid. It was lost because it was enclosed in a wooden box which carried no identifying markings. When the trunk was received in 1918, it was placed in the royal vaults and servants failed to make a record of its arrival.

Alfonso's consent to the marriage of the Infanta Beatrice was given begrudgingly, the United Press learned. The princess, who celebrates her 23rd birthday June 22, when she attains her majority and the right to act for herself, told her father that unless he consented she would marry without it.

HINDENBURG SUPPORT SOUGHT BY CENTRIST
BERLIN, Feb. 18.—(AP)—Charging that the opponents of President Paul von Hindenburg are actuated by "egoistic motives," Dr. Ludwig Kaas, in behalf of the Catholic centrist party, has appealed to the Catholics and all responsible sections of the electorate to support the president for reelection. Chancellor Heinrich Brüning is a member of the centrist party.

BOY OF 8 DESCRIBES SHOOTING BY MOTHER
MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 18.—(AP)—Hubie Oliver Horn, an 8-year-old boy, told police early today how he handed his mother a revolver and then saw her shoot a man from whom she had warned not to enter her house.

The wounded man, Thomas Martin Smith, 46, a carpenter, was taken to a hospital, where it was said he would recover.

The boy's story was confirmed by his mother, Mrs. Idell Horn, a widow, despite her first statement and Smith's repeated declaration that he shot himself accidentally.

HEAVY SEAT DEMAND FOR 'HOUSE BEAUTIFUL'

The interest tangle of this city have displayed in the coming of Chas. Pollock's play, "The House Beautiful," to the Erlanger for a three-night engagement, beginning Monday night (with a Wednesday matinee) is evidenced by the record-breaking advance demand for seats. Every mail brings hundreds of tickets orders and it is estimated that a capacity house will greet this latest dramatic contribution by Mr. Pollock, who has been represented in our theater in past years by his plays, "The Sign of the Cross," "The Sign of the Cross," "The Sign of the Cross," and other successes. Seats for the engagement are now on sale at the Erlanger box office, open from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

To round out a thoroughly delightful week's theatrical fare, "The Student Prince" follows "The House Beautiful" on Thursday night and will be seen at the Erlanger for an engagement limited to three nights, with a popular matinee Saturday. New York, Boston, Chicago, Washington have all acclaimed the all-star cast that is to visit us as constituting the finest "Student Prince" company, both vocally and histrionically, that has yet interpreted Romberg's most tuneful and thoroughly entertaining musical work. Mail orders are coming in rapidly. The box office sale opens on Monday night.

COMEDY HIT AT GRAND IN 'STEPPING SISTERS'

Though inclined to drag a little in places, "Stepping Sisters," new Fox feature which made its Atlanta debut at the Grand theater on Thursday, is a splendid comedy. With a cast including Joyce Dresser, Jobyna Howland, Minna Gombell, William Collier Sr. and others it could not be otherwise. It tells the story of three erstwhile burlesque queens who go widely separated ways in later life. One becomes a society highlight with ambitions to climb still further along the afternoon tea pathway. Another goes to the Grand theater on Thursday, with a handle to her name and a London accent to her voice, while the third stays natural and carries on the stardom of tight and foot lights.

The scene where the two incorrigibles turn a society allegory performance into an old-time burlesque show is a scream, worth all the waiting required.

A cartoon comedy, an organologue a sentimental comedy and the newswell complete the bill.

McLEAN SCORES WITH ARTISTRY IN PROGRAM HERE

The Student Lecture Association of Emory University presented Cameron McLean, distinguished baritone, Thursday evening in the beautiful Glenn Memorial auditorium in a concert that was at the same time unique, artistic and entertaining. McLean has a voice rich in quality, which may be powerful and dramatic or delicate in pure pianissimo, with a marvelous control, and a rare ability of modulation.

In the first half of the program, composed of two groups of Scotch folk songs, McLean figuratively transported the audience to his native land, the islands of the Western Hebrides, off the coast of Scotland, adding to the charm of his songs, so richly abounding in beauty and emotions of a people, by appearing in the full dress regalia of the Scotch Highlander. Of these songs, "Nancy Hair," Fraser, typical of Scotch admiration for beauty; "Wi' a Hundred Pipes," arranged by Fritz Kreisler, stirring in its portrayal of a Scotch patrol; and the dramatic "Loch Lomond," also arranged by Kreisler, warranted particular merit. "Annie Laurie" was given as an encore.

Thomas Brumby, Emory student and pupil of Hugh Hodgson, rendered two piano solos with fine feeling and exceptional technical skill. Warm tone pervaded Moszkowski's "Melodie," and mastery and understanding characterized "Prelude in E-flat Major," which was followed by an encore, "Goliwog's Cakewalk," Debussy.

In the second half of the program, McLean substituted a dress suit for his kilts, and reached fine climaxes in vocal execution. "The Floral Dance," by Kate Moss, and "Ballynure Ballad," arranged by Herbert Hughes, made difficult demands admirably met, and La Forge's "Far Away," by Marguerite Teste, dramatic "Bondage," were exceedingly well done. An effective and individual interpretation of Monusky's "Song of the Flea" was given as an encore. Stewart Willie's arrangement of "Lord, I Want to Be," negro spiritual, was another encore.

McLean's accompanist, Mahell Howe Mabel, did the formidable feat of playing all accompaniments from memory.
